Dear Valued Customer,

We would like to notify you that we have discontinued the full line of Entegris Bellows pumps at the end of March 2011. Due to declining market demand, the product line will no longer accept new orders after this date. Entegris will continue to support existing bellows pump products through March 2016. We value your business and look forward to assisting you whenever possible with our other products and services.

Please contact your local Sales representative for additional questions or concerns.

Following is the schedule of discontinuation.

1. Discontinued products

All of Entegris G, K and EJ Series bellows pump included custom specification products

2. Recommended replacement products

Entegris will no longer manufacture bellows pumps and will not offer a replacement.

3. The last date of the maintenance service accepted

Overhauling and maintenance service: March 2016

Maintenance kits and related accessory sales: March 2016

Sincerely yours
