Richard Hong

President, Entegris Korea

Mr. Hong joined Entegris in April, 2014 as part of the ATMI acquisition. In 2016, he was selected to serve in his current role as President of Entegris Korea. Prior to that, he served as Special Advisor to the Entegris CEO.

Mr. Hong has been involved in the semiconductor industry for over 30 years in engineering, applications, sales and management positions. He has also served in advisory board roles for semiconductor equipment companies. Prior to joining ATMI, he was Asia-Pacific President of Qcept Technology.

Before his time at Qcept, Mr. Hong served at KLA-Tencor as CEO/President of KLA-Tencor Korea, along with many other divisional, senior management roles. Prior to KLA-Tencor, he worked for Samsung Semiconductor, serving as Assistant Manager of Process Architecture with responsibilities in Korea and the U.S. to develop DRAM mass production.

Mr. Hong holds a Master of Science degree in electrical engineering from Yonsei University in Korea and earned an MBA in Marketing from Golden Gate University in San Francisco, CA. He has also completed Executive MBA courses at the Haas School in Berkeley, CA.

Mr. Hong holds distinction as a SEMI Bob Graham Award recipient (2007). This award is one of the most recognized Sales/Marketing Excellence Awards in the industry. Mr. Hong then later served as Committee Chairman for this award, overseeing the 2013-14 award selection process.
